Patricia (Miller) Campbell, 84, of Millerstown, passed away March 19, 2020. Daughter of the late Holman (Max) Miller and Sarah (Sid) Deckard Miller, she was born June 25, 1935 and grew up in Liverpool. Pat graduated from Greenwood Joint High School in 1953 and attended Susquehanna University before her employment at AMP Incorporated in Harrisburg.

After marriage to Albert (Abe) Campbell in 1955, she made a home for her family in Old Ferry and then in Millerstown. For many years, Pat worked in family owned grocery stores and for her son at Campbell's Keystone Inn.

Pat was a champion shopper, baked and gave away hundreds of banana breads, enjoyed every kind of social gathering and loved being with family, friends and neighbors. She was a member of Perry Valley Presbyterian Church, donated years of service to Geisinger's House of Care and spent a lot of time at "the shore".

Preceded in death by her husband of 62 years and an infant brother, she is survived by her daughter, Natalie Blosser; son, Steven Campbell (Gail); grandson, Harris Campbell; sister, Essie Rothermel (Frank); brother, Lewis Miller (Kathy); her sibling's children and grandchildren; and beloved sisters-in-law, brothers-in-law, nieces and nephews.

Interment will be private and a memorial service will be announced at a future date.
